Emma B: There's no Spice rift

EMMA Bunton has brushed off rumours of a rift between the Spice Girls following pal Mel Brown's absence from their tour rehearsals.

Brown did not join Emma, Geri Horner and Melanie Chisholm for the first rehearsal on Monday, sparking speculation of a row between the group after Mel B's recent claims she previously had a lesbian one-night stand with Geri.

However, Emma (above) said Mel B is rehearsing for the tour, but separately from the others due to previous commitments.

Emma said: "Me, Geri and Mel C were there. Mel B is rehearsing in LA as she's got commitments and her children."

"She learns the same steps as us...we were doing FaceTiming."

"I think she's coming over in the next few weeks, and then we all work together."

IS leader killed in US air strike

A US air strike has killed an ISIS leader in Somalia.

The US Africa Command said it carried out an air strike near Xiriro, a village in northern Somalia's semi-independent Puntland state on Sunday, killing Abdulhakim Dhuqub – the deputy leader of the Somali extremists linked to IS.

Dhuqub was responsible for the daily operations of the extremist group, planning attacks and getting resources.

The air strike targeted the vehicle carrying him.

No civilians were injured or killed as a result, according to the US military.

COPS NICK 122 IN CLIMATE PROTESTS

WHINGERS: Mobs take to the streets in London

MORE than 120 climate change activists were nicked yesterday for blocking roads in central London, amid protests aimed at shutting down the capital.

A second day of disruption kicked off after Extinction Rebellion campaigners camped overnight at Waterloo Bridge, Parliament Square and Oxford Circus.

Disruption

Police ordered them to restrict their protest to Marble Arch after causing widespread disruption on Monday.

The Met said 122 people had been arrested by lunchtime yesterday.

Most were detained on suspicion of public order offences, while five people were held on suspicion of criminal damage at Shell's headquarters.

Ch Supt Colin Wingrove commented: "Ongoing demonstrations are causing serious disruption to public transport, local businesses and Londoners who wish to go about their daily business."

"At this time we have made a total of 122 arrests."

"Of those, 117 were on Waterloo Bridge last night and in the early hours of this morning."

The protestors – mainly middle-class angsty types – are whingeing and protesting about things like carbon and polar bears, etc.

Outrage as nude model cheers Notre Dame blaze

RUINS: Aftermath of Notre Dame fire

SHE'S A NASTY PIECE OF GUSSET

SHOCK: Model Marisa Papan loves to pose nude in public

A PLAYBOY model who flashed her genitals while wearing a burka sparked outrage by celebrating the Notre Dame fire in Paris.

Controversial model Marisa Papan also made headlines when she was arrested after posing nude with a giant crucifix at the Vatican.

She also caused outrage in Israel after posing in front of Jerusalem's Wailing Wall as well as in Turkey where she lifted up her burka to reveal her genitals inside Istanbul's iconic Hagia Sophia.

The Belgian has now posted cheering remarks to the burning down of the iconic Notre Dame cathedral in the French capital.

Papan wrote on social media: "Churches are burning... a new Era is gonna come!"

Even netizens who shared Papan's anti-religious beliefs were shocked at her remarks.

By COLIN HURST

news@sundaysport.co.uk

Dwight John Christopher Kassulke wrote: "I'm not a churchgoer Marisa but your endorsement of destruction of property is unacceptable. And not every church individual is responsible for the abuse that you mentioned!"

Meanwhile Shah Kahn wrote: "Nasty piece of gusset." And Bulent H. Albayrak asked: "No compassion for architecture and history?"

The model replied: "I prefer trees... nature shall reclaim her belongings."

To which Oliver Whitestone replied: "Laughing at the cathedral burning... advocating trees, while leaving a CO2 imprint higher than an Indian family... with your plastic sushi crap, and flying from photoshoot to photoshoot. You're actually bad for the environment. And also you're tasteless, an 800-year-old monument burning is a tragedy... no matter what kind of building it was."

Papan said that while she does appreciate "the architectural art and beauty" of Notre Dame she could not care less about an icon of the Catholic church burning down.

She added: "What's built of nature, belongs to nature. So nature shall reclaim."

"For a long time, we have shown no respect for nature. We have depleted Earth to build something to honour God."

According to the Belgian shock artist, it is time to "look at our real God beneath our feet, our Earth," instead of "blindly staring into the sky."

Papan said: "I wish everyone were as involved with nature as with this Notre Dame."

The model went on to say that "now perhaps all the archives of child pornography went up in flames as well".

Nicole tipped to be new dance show's judge

A FORMER Strictly star has tipped scorching-hot Nicole Scherzinger to replace Darcey Bussell as a judge on the show.

Dancer Kristina Rihanoff, 41, who competed on BBC1's Strictly Come Dancing for seven years, said the former Pussycat Doll would make an ideal replacement.

The Russian said: "She is a beautiful, stunning lady who has professional training in street and commercial dancing. She would be a good judge."

"I do think the panel needs another woman and someone from a different background to ballroom dancing."

Other names in the mix alongside Nicole, 40, include American choreographer Mandy Moore who worked on the 2016 film La La Land, and US dancing shows So You Think You Can Dance and Dancing With The Stars.

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Kristina, who once dated her 2009 Strictly celeb partner, boxer Joe Calzaghe, and who is now with rugby player Ben Cohen – who she also partnered on the dance show in 2013 – said she wasn't ready to take on a judging role.

She said: "Of course I would love to be a judge but I don't see myself in that role just yet. I'm a very creative person, I love choreographing."

A Strictly source said: "It's early to speculate, but Nicole is very fit."

Dame Darcey, 49, announced last week she was leaving the BBC series after a seven-year stint as a judge.

STACEY: CURSE IS NONSENSE

THERE is no Strictly Come Dancing curse, says last year's winner Stacey Dooley.

It comes just days after her boyfriend of five years revealed she dumped him for her Beeb dance partner Kevin Clifton.

And Sam Tucknott reckoned documentary maker Stacey, 32, had been secretly dating the dancer before she split from him.

But Stacey said on Twitter: "Anyone with adult life experience knows there are two sides to every story."

"I haven't got the time to correct some of the nonsense I've read."

Falkirk's folk are reportedly noisy fkers

A TOWN'S randy lovers are making their neighbours moan with their noisy sex.

Hordes of enthusiastic couples were reported to authorities in Scotland for causing a disturbance through screaming and groaning.

Frisky folk in Falkirk (above) have been exposed as the country's most vocal lovers, with council bosses receiving 49 noisy sex complaints in the past year.

Figures released under Freedom of Information laws show Stirling, which came second, lagged far behind with just two grievances.

Aberdeenshire, Inverclyde and Perth and Kinross councils had just one gripe each lodged since last March.

But quiet couples kept a lid on it in East Ayrshire, Dundee, Shetland and Dumfries and Galloway, which had no noisy sex complaints at all.

But John O'Connell, of the TaxPayers' Alliance, said: "Councils should be focusing on delivering public services, not wasting cash as some kind of jumped-up sex police."

'Rampant' party drug sells for £1

RAVERS are getting hooked on a party drug which can be bought for just £1.

The readily-available substance, said to be so powerful it can melt plastic, is called 'G' and is being mixed into drinks at clubs and bars.

Some party-goers take it up to five times a day and say it "increases horniness" and "makes you very rampant".

Patrick Ettenes, 36, said: "The feeling is quite euphoric to be honest."

"It's also a sex drug. It increases your horniness. Some people can't control themselves - they become very rampant."

A millilitre of "G" costs £1 - and is more than enough to knock some people out cold.

'G' could be outlawed like GHB or GBL, both of which have been linked to 90 deaths between 1993 and 2017.

The upcoming TV drama series is a sequel to the successful Sky Atlantic drama The Young Pope.

Shot in Venice, Italy, it also stars

John Malkovich, 65, and is set to premiere later this year.

The final episode sees Pius XIII face a moment of temptation that could abolish his papacy.

However, it appears The New Pope will not be a second series of The Young Pope but rather a "second limited series set in the world of the modern papacy", Variety reported.

FLEABAG SPARKS PRIEST SEX CRAZE

HIT telly comedy Fleabag has sparked the biggest surge in interest in PRIEST SEX since the 1980s and the classic Richard Chamberlain mini-series The Thorn Birds.

And after watching the final episode of the cult BBC comedy, thousands are now using Google to find out the ins and outs of shagging a man of the Catholic cloth.

Actor Andrew Scott, 42, known as just "Father" in Fleabag, made the revelation during an interview.

The former Bond star - he played baddie Max Denbeigh opposite Daniel Craig's 007 in 2015's Spectre - said: "I certainly think the series has made [Catholicism] relevant. "There's been a thing where Googling 'Can you have sex with a priest' has increased. So that's extraordinary to me."

Phoebe Waller-Briggs' character, Fleabag, was seen on screen typing the same thing into her search engine, when wondering if she and her love interest can be intimate - but discovers it's strictly forbidden.

Andrew admitted he relished his romantic role.

He said: "I'm quite a romantic person in real-life and it's something I've not had a lot of opportunities to express in work."

Andrew, who grew up in Dublin, also said that he is gay but no longer a Catholic in real life.

3.4million tune in for latest GoT

THE first episode of the new series of Game Of Thrones has already been watched by 3.4m Sky Atlantic viewers, the broadcaster has said.

More than 192,000 enthusiasts stayed up until 2am on Monday morning to watch the first transmission of the first episode of Series 8 live, at the same time it was being broadcast for the first time in the U.S. on HBO.

That transmission has now been viewed by a total of 2.7m UK fans who recorded the early broadcast or watched on demand, as well as those who tuned in live.

The episode aired for a second time at 9pm and that transmission has been watched by 698,000 people.

The figure is expected to increase significantly as more Game Of Thrones fans catch up on the series premiere on demand, through Sky +.

Game Of Thrones, starring Kit Harrington (above), continues on Sky Atlantic and NOW TV.

The actress, who has embodied Dot Cotton for decades, has said she will die of something "fairly soon", so there is no point in quitting.

June (above) told Radio Times magazine: "I'm going to die of something fairly soon so why not enjoy myself. I love red wine and also dark chocolate, even though I'm allergic to it and it makes me sneeze."

"And the Guinness helps me keep a bit of weight on."

SON KILLED MUM OVER 'MILKY' CUPPA

SEVERE
FORCE:
Westwood

By COLIN HURST news@sundaysport.co.uk

A MENTALLY ill man who killed his mother and told police they had argued over the amount of milk in a cup of tea has been ordered to be detained indefinitely.

Thomas Westwood initially claimed he had stabbed 68-year-old Susan Westwood after she threatened him with a knife at their home in Coventry on December 1 2017.

The 47-year-old, who inflicted nine stab wounds using "severe" force, pleaded guilty to manslaughter on the grounds of diminished responsibility during a previous hearing at Warwick Crown Court.

Prosecutor Peter Grieves-Smith QC said Westwood's claim that his mother had a knife was thought to be a symptom of his mental illness.

Mr Grieves-Smith told the court Westwood asked to speak to a solicitor while on remand at HMP Hewell in Worcestershire and had expressed regret and admitted he had not acted in self-defence.

Agitated

The court heard 18-stone Westwood had been diagnosed with paranoid schizophrenia and autism spectrum disorder.

Shortly before the killing at his one-bed home in Tile Hill, where Westwood slept on the sofa, he was seen outside by a neighbour in an agitated state.

Westwood dialled 999 at 8.35pm, suggesting his mother, who had mobility problems and had done all she could to support him, had wanted to slit his throat.

STAB WOUNDS:
Susan Westwood

Police and paramedics attended and the victim's body was found on a sofa as Westwood continued to claim he acted in self-defence.

The court heard Westwood, who has suffered from mental health problems since the late 1980s, told a police officer he had made his mother a cup of tea but she had threatened him because the drink "wasn't milky enough".

As well as being made the subject of an indefinite hospital order, Westwood was jailed for 16 years with an extended licence period of five years.

RASTAMOUSE CREATOR DENIES HE'S A BENEFITS CHEAT

THE creator of popular children's TV character Rastamouse has denied being a benefits cheat.

Michael de Souza, 64, denied two counts of dishonestly failing to notify the Department for Work and Pensions of income arising from his work as an author.

Trinidad-born De Souza, who appeared in court wearing a light blue three-piece suit and traditional rastacap, created the well-known musical mouse in 2003.

The show follows the crime busting mouse and members of reggae band Da Easy Crew, who split their time between making music and solving mysteries for Da President of Mouseland.

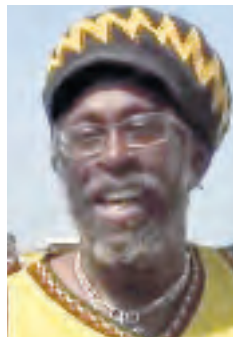

Rastamouse was turned into a

CBeebies TV show in 2011, running for three series and 52 episodes, and is voiced by Reggie Yates.

De Souza, of Princethorpe House, Westbourne Park, west London, denied two counts of dishonestly failing to notify a change in circumstances between December 2016 and December 2017.

Judge Michael Gledhill said: "The defendant must understand that if he does not turn up when the case is listed, that is a separate criminal offence and it is likely that he will be tried in his absence."

De Souza (right) was bailed on condition that he lives and sleeps each night at his home ahead of a two-day trial on July 22 at Southwark Crown Court.

QUIT FORCE: Rob Leet

TRYSTS: Sarah Porter

THE actions of a former police chief inspector and the female colleague he met for sexual liaisons while on duty amounted to gross misconduct, a disciplinary panel has found.

Ex-chief inspector Rob Leet and Sergeant Sarah Porter were found to have conducted their relationship while at work and misused Sussex Police systems to arrange meetings.

A hearing in Lewes, East Sussex, was told the pair exchanged more than 700 messages, including hidden text of a "graphic sexual nature" in emails and acronyms, and tried to hide their trysts from colleagues.

Married father-of-four Leet quit the force last month after 22 years' service before he could face the allegations at a police disciplinary hearing. Both he and Porter denied having sex on duty.

Porter, who has a daughter with her former husband, another police officer, admitted kissing but claimed it did not amount to sexual activity.

However, the disciplinary panel found the allegation was proved at the hearing and that Porter's actions amounted to gross misconduct.

Chairwoman Victoria Goodfellow said: "That sexual activity was at least kissing and, on the balance of probabilities, more."

The panel found the same allegation proved against Leet.

Amy Clarke, representing Sussex Police, said both Leet and Porter should be dismissed.

The hearing continues.

Teen's underage sex victim hid in airing cupboard

A TEENAGER who had sexual activity with four underage girls has been sent to youth custody after one victim was found in his airing cupboard.

Thomas Medler, now 19, had improper contact with the girls, aged 13 to 15, when he was slightly older than them.

He continued with his activities even after he was served with a sexual risk order not to do so.

When police moved in on him, they found one of the girls hiding in the airing cupboard of his home, Bristol Crown Court heard.

Medler (above), of Lockleaze, was found guilty of sexual activity with one girl and sexually touching a second.

He pleaded guilty to having sexual activity with another two girls, sexual grooming and two breaches of a sexual risk order.

He was sentenced to three-and-a-half years in a young offenders' institution.

Brits have three holidays a year

TWO-FIFTHS of UK holidaymakers take three or more "mini-breaks" or longer holidays every year, spending £3,216 annually on average, a survey has found.

Research from Co-op Insurance found 39 per cent of people across the UK go away at least three times a year, with 63% paying with savings.

More than a quarter (27%) of 25 to 34-year-olds say they take five or more breaks every year.

Top sex blunders revealed

THE 10 biggest sex mistakes made by men and women have been revealed.

Women's biggest mistake, according to men, is failing to initiate sex more often.

Two-thirds of men (64%) said they primarily get sex started in a relationship and they would like it if their partner did this more.

Men's biggest mistake, according to 74% of women, is skipping on foreplay and rushing straight into full sex.

The results are revealed in a new survey of 2,000 men and women, split evenly between the sexes, by IllicitEncounters.com, the UK's leading dating website for married people.

It got men and women to list their top 10 sex pet hates in the hope of making both sexes better lovers.

WOMEN'S 10 BIGGEST MISTAKES (ACCORDING TO MEN)

- 1 Fail to initiate sex
- 2 Always wanting sex in the dark
- 3 Faking an orgasm
- 4 Talking too much
- 5 Never asking for anything new
- 6 Mentioning what a previous lover did in bed
- 7 Over-thinking sex
- 8 Being too timid
- 9 Believing he is always up for sex
- 10 Worrying too much about how they look

MEN'S 10 BIGGEST MISTAKES (ACCORDING TO WOMEN)

- 1 Skipping on foreplay and rushing straight into full sex
- 2 Having an orgasm first
- 3 Being clumsy
- 4 Talking dirty in a crude way
- 5 Lack of communication/intimacy after sex
- 6 Fall asleep as soon as they have finished
- 7 Commenting on women's body shape
- 8 Assume you know what she wants
- 9 Rigidly stick to your plan and ignoring her body language
- 10 Keep it completely physical with no emotional connection

Clumsy

Fourth place was talking too much (42% of men complained about this) and fifth place (39%) was never asking for something new.

The second biggest male mistake, according to 68% of women, is having their orgasm first and not ensuring they return the compliment.

In third place was being clumsy and not treating her body parts with enough sensitivity, with 62% of women complaining of this.

Fourth place was talking dirty in a crude way (52% of women said they had experienced this) and the fifth biggest turn off (47%) was lack of communication/intimacy after sex.

Arena bombing appeal fund hits £21.6m

AN appeal launched in the wake of the May 2017 Manchester Arena bombing has reached a final total of £21.6million.

The majority of cash raised by the We Love Manchester Emergency Fund, which stopped taking donations at the end of January, has gone to bereaved families.

But trustees of the charity also help those who need ongoing medical support and care.

The remaining £1.1m from the fund will be given to those who suffered significant injuries.

Go behind the scenes at West Ham women's team after they win through to cup final

THERE'S a special reason for tuning in to Britain's favourite footie show on Saturday night.

Because last weekend West Ham Ladies – the team at the centre of Britain's Youngest Football Boss – won a place in the women's FA Cup final at Wembley on May 4.

The amazing Britain's Youngest Football Boss follows Jack Sullivan after he's appointed managing director of West Ham women's team by his dad – West Ham United owner and Sport publisher David Sullivan.

The show sees Jack, 19, battle with the team's form on the pitch and the responsibilities of running a football team off it.

By SIMON DEAN

simon@sundaysport.co.uk

This Saturday's episode is extra special in another way, too.

Because it tells the story of West Ham striker Alisha Lehman, 19, who lives with her partner – Chelsea forward Ramona Bachman, 27.

Jack said: "We've never had partners play against each other in the men's game."

Nervous

Alisha and Ramona met while playing for Switzerland and are very much in love – but not when their two teams play each other.

Alisha said: "Ramona is the better footballer. She's fast, but I'm faster! I'm a little bit nervous to play against her but I think it will be a good game."

You can catch Britain's Youngest Football Boss on BBC1 on Saturday at 11.45pm, straight after Match of the Day – or you can catch up on BBC's iPlayer.

Stepdad on trial over abuse of teen 'HE WOULD GRAB HER AND HAVE SEX WITH HER'

By COLIN HURST news@sundaysport.co.uk

A MAN sexually abused his stepdaughter for years while the rest of the family were going about their lives in the same house, a court heard.

Truro Crown Court heard how the man, now 39, allegedly believed he was in a relationship with the girl, starting when she was 13 years old.

All the incidents are alleged to have happened between 2010 and 2013 in the St Austell, Cornwall, area.

The man, who is not named to protect the identity of the alleged victim, denies 16 charges of sexual activity with a child and three charges of voyeurism.

Drinking

Opening the trial, Heather Hope, prosecuting, said that by the time the alleged abuse began, the man had been living with his partner and her children for over five years.

Ms Hope told the jury: "They spent a lot of time together, they were really close.

"She would start staying up increasingly late, usually on a Friday and Saturday. He would sit downstairs with her and watch films together while mum was upstairs in the bedroom watching TV.

"The first time something happened was when she and the defendant were sitting on the sofa watching a film. She describes lying with her head on his lap and she remembers him drinking.

"He started putting his hand down her trousers, which progressed to him touching her bottom and then vagina.

"She didn't really understand what he was doing or why he was doing it."

Horrible

The girl alleges that her stepfather first "forced" her to have sex a few days later, when the family went on a holiday.

"She felt horrible and it wasn't something she wanted to do," Ms Hope said.

"After this, they would have sex regularly, usually with him under the influence. He wouldn't say anything, he would just grab her and have sex with her.

"As time moved on, he started to tell her that he loved her and he thought he was having a relationship with her.

As well as sex, the jury was told that the man would touch her sexually, make her perform oral sex and on some occasions have anal sex with her.

According to the girl's brother, he once heard what he later realised were sexual noises coming from his sister's room.

"He didn't want to think anything was happening to his sister, so he too said nothing," Ms Hope said.

On other occasions the man would go into the bathroom while the girl was in the shower and masturbate while watching her, before grabbing her as she came out of the shower.

"As she got older, she understood better what was going on and brought things to an end."

The defendant told police that what was alleged was "untrue" and said the girl only made the allegations because he had taken a dislike to her boyfriend.

He denied all forms of sexual contact with the girl and said the noises her brother heard must have been "playing with and tickling the girls".

Ms Hope added: "It is not credible that she would make up these allegations of such seriousness about a man she loved like a father, a man who was there for her mother and her family."

The trial continues.

Hooker clampdown cops slammed

POLICE have been slammed after warning sex workers they could be prosecuted in a clampdown on city centre hookers.

South Wales Police said prostitutes who "refuse to engage" with support services in Swansea could face action.

Swansea Women's Aid, which helps vulnerable women, said it was "very concerned", adding the move could stop them engaging with its support project.

The force said: "Those that exploit sex workers remain our focus."

Jodie hit by hacking leak claims

By JAYNE FERGUSON

COULD that REALLY be Doctor Who actress Jodie Whittaker standing half naked at a bathroom sink taking a topless selfie?

That's what internet hackers would certainly have us believe after posting a snap purporting to be the 36-year-old Time Lord star.

The woman in the photo – which we are unable to show for legal reasons – is wearing a pair of black panties and is covering her eyes while she takes a picture of her pert breasts.

The caption on the website claims the photo was hacked from the Cloud – a kind of fog in the internet sky where photos and other data is kept.

Tampered

But it's impossible to tell if the photo is genuine, a lookalike or has been tampered with.

Jodie did however reveal her magnificent breasts in the 2006 movie Venus so we do have something to compare the new image with!

In recent years, many celebrities have fallen victims to cyber criminals who use special Russian-built e-nets to fish in the electronic vapour of the Cloud in the hope of catching famous nudies.

One celebrity said last night: "There's no way I'd put naked pictures of my wife on the Cloud where any Flash Harry can get at them. You'd need to be daft."

Doggy paddled 135 miles to sea

A DOG found swimming more than 135 miles from shore by workers on an oil rig crew has been returned safely to land.

A worker on the rig belonging to Chevron Thailand Exploration and Production, Vitisak Payalaw, said on his Facebook page that the dog was sighted last Friday swimming towards the platform in the Gulf of Thailand.

The crew managed to rescue the mutt by putting a rope around its neck and hauling it up.

He said the crew speculated it might have fallen off a fishing trawler, and dubbed him 'Survivor'.

FASCINATING NEW BOOK REVEALS SHOCK STORY OF NAZI-CRAZED SERIAL KILLER SET TO BE FREED...

By GARY DORAN gary@sundaysport.co.uk

A BRITISH serial killer dubbed "Psycho" – who once butchered a priest with an axe – could soon walk free from prison.

Patrick Mackay is one of the UK's longest-serving inmates who confessed to murdering up to ELEVEN people, including a four-year-old boy.

Notorious names such as West, Shipman, Sutcliffe, Nilsen, Hindley and Brady have all dominated the headlines in recent years.

But in 1975 it was Mackay who left the UK horrified following a spree of gruesome murders across London and Kent.

Photos show the various demented faces of the criminal named "the most dangerous man in Britain" at his court trial – a hacked-up body of a priest in a bathtub, and the cold eyes of a deranged killer.

These stomach-churning photos form part of John Lucas's book Britain's Forgotten Serial Killer: The Devil's Disciple, a detailed account of the Nazi-obsessed killer.

Lucas explains: "Convicted of three killings, suspected of another eight, Patrick David Mackay was dubbed 'the Monster of Belgravia', 'the Devil's Disciple' and simply 'The Psychopath' amid a torrent of public anger at the way he had repeatedly slipped through the criminal justice system.

"When the authorities added it all up, Mackay had been incarcerated, sectioned or otherwise detained at least NINETEEN times before he was finally brought to justice for his horrific killing spree."

Stunned

Lucas said it was a case that left the nation stunned – but that Mackay could soon be out walking the streets again after being allowed to change his name.

"Yet the extraordinary story of the Nazi-obsessive, who hacked a priest to death with an axe and killed two elderly women during a remorseless robbery campaign on the upmarket streets of West London, was all but forgotten by Christmas of 1975.

"It had been expected to run and run.

"Among the unsolved cases Mackay had apparently confessed to in prison – but later denied under questioning – was the murder of a teenage nanny on a train and the heinous double killing of a widow and her grandson aged just four."

Mackay was born in 1952 and was raised in an abusive household and regularly beaten by his alcoholic father.

It wasn't long before Mackay was committing criminal acts himself – particularly arson, animal cruelty, theft and stealing garden gnomes.

Medical professions saw that he had psychopathic tendencies and he was sectioned in 1968.

He was released four years later and would soon be responsible for the death of at least three people.

The murderer quickly developed a fascination with Nazism and often referred to

HORROR: The Daily Mail (below) reported the case in the mid 1970s himself as "Franklin Bollvolt the First" and often spoke of his desire to "wipe out" the elderly.

He was convicted of three killings.

Mackay's first identified victim was 87-year-old widow Isabella Griffiths, who was strangled and stabbed at her home in Cheyne Walk, Chelsea.

Next was Adele Price, 89, strangled at her home in Lowndes Square, Kensington.

Finally, on March 21, 1975, Mackay killed Father Anthony Crean in a frenzied attack using his fists, a knife and an axe at the priest's home in the picturesque village of Shorne, Kent, leaving the 63-year-old's mutilated body floating in a bath full of bloody water.

Mackay was arrested just two days later, but his horrifying crimes probably did not end there.

Manslaughter

Although he was charged with five counts of murder, Mackay's convictions were only for three counts of manslaughter due to diminished responsibility.

The other two cases were allowed to lie on file, meaning prosecutors believed they had enough evidence but a trial was felt not to be in the public interest.

The first victim in this group was 73-year-old widow Mary Hynes, who was choked and stabbed at her home in Willes Road, Kentish Town.

Second was 62-year-old shopkeeper Frank Goodman – he was battered with a piece of metal pipe at his premises in Rock Street, Finsbury Park.

Finally, there were five unsolved murders, which Mackay allegedly confessed to while in jail, later telling police officers that he wasn't responsible.

The victims in those cases were 18-year-old Heidi Mnilk, Stephanie Britton, Christopher Martin, Sarah Rodmell and Ivy Davies.

Mackay also admitted to killing an unidentified homeless man by pushing him into a canal. The body was never recovered.

Despite his alarming crimes and the sordid accusations surrounding Mackay, Lucas is concerned that the serial killer may soon be released from prison without the general public ever knowing.

If he really did kill 11 people, he would be the UK's fifth most prolific serial killer.

The book also reveals Mackay was suspected of murdering a popular cafe owner from Essex.

Ivy Davis's body was found at her Westcliff-on-sea home with multiple wounds to her head, as well as a ligature around her neck on February 4, 1975.

She was last seen leaving the cafe on the evening before and found by her daughter the following day.

Lucas said: "While police had taken the initial decision not to charge

Mackay with those crimes, it seemed to be only a matter of time before more evidence came to light.

"But the charges never materialised.

"In fact, he has been able to change his name and win the right to live in an open prison – the first step on the road to eventual freedom – without a shred of publicity surrounding the decision.

"Far from being one of Britain's most notorious inmates, he is not even recognised as being the UK's longest-serving living prisoner.

"The question remains – was Patrick Mackay really one of Britain's most prolific serial killers, as detectives originally suspected?

"That mystery is what this book sets out to examine."

Pair rapped for bonk on a Big Wheel

A COUPLE charged with having sex as they rode a Big Wheel have been banned from the ride.

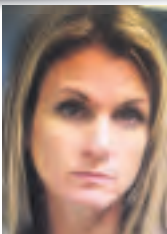

Michael Mathisen, 30, and Lauren Wilder, 31, are accused of being drunk and having sex on the observation wheel along the banks of the Ohio River in Cincinnati, Ohio, on the ride's opening day in March.

Mathisen and Wilder (above) were both charged with public indecency and are due in court next month.

The SkyStar Wheel operators said the pair had been banned for life from the attraction.

Over-55s worst drink-drivers

MORE than 1.6million motorists over the age of 55 have driven while over the limit, a study suggests.

Research by Direct Line Motor Insurance also found that the main reason given for driving under the influence was that the trip was only over a short distance.

More than 750,000 of these older motorists also admitted that they drove when they could have still been drunk from the night before.

HOLE LOT OF LOVIN': Tiger went shooting for sexy babes

Boffin says beating his sex addiction drove Masters win

TIGER Woods says his Masters triumph is "right up there" with his greatest achievements, having faced "serious doubts" he would ever contend again.

And last night a boffin said the golfer's former lust for NOOKIE helped him bag his 15th Major.

Woods, 43, won a fifth Green Jacket at Augusta on Sunday – his first Major in 11 years and an incredible return to golf's elite circle since having four operations on his back.

Doubts

Tiger said he could "barely walk" before surgery and his kids had seen golf cause "pain".

"I was very lucky to be given another chance to do something that I love to do. I had serious doubts after what transpired a couple of years ago," he said.

"I couldn't lay down, I couldn't do much of anything.

"I had the procedure, which gave me a chance of having a normal life.

"All of a sudden, I realised I could swing a golf club again."

By GRACE HOOPER
news@sundaysport.co.uk

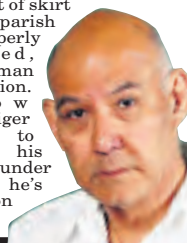

Woods has struggled with more than a bad back over the years. In 2010, it was reported he had checked into a SEX ADDICTION clinic.

That compulsion for the minge led to him being linked with Playboy model Loredana Jolie and porn starlets Devon James, Holly Sampson and Joslyn James.

And according to leading psychologist Bernard Watkiss (below), once Tiger stopped chasing fanny to concentrate on the game, he became a champion once again.

Watkiss said: "The sort of drive that sends a man chasing every bit of skirt in the parish can, properly directed, make a man a champion."

"Now that Tiger appears to have his demons under control, he's back on form."

BABES

EVERYONE loves a tasty Twix – and foxy Anastasia Harris once chomped one out of a hot BABE!

The 32D beauty revealed she got naughty with the choccy treat during a very kinky THREESOME with her fella and another stunna.

And the 26-year-old model reckons it proves that ladies are FAR dirtier than lads.

Naughtier

Anastasia, from Portsmouth, said: “Guys obviously have the right components for sex – but women know what other women want more!

“They know how to turn you on – and I think two girls together are far naughtier.

“If I want a rude time, then I’d go for a girl – not a guy.

“That time with the Twix? That was the girl’s idea. It was the best Twix I’ve ever tasted.”

HOT SEX!

Jealous girl burned down boyfriend's house after threesome

A WOMAN torched her boyfriend's house after a threesome left her feeling violently jealous, police say.

Tasia Young, 33, confessed to starting the fire that spread to two apartments and left seven people homeless in Woodbury, New Jersey.

Young admitted to officers that she set the house ablaze after she and her boyfriend had a threesome with another woman the previous day.

Fury

She is said to have erupted in fury after the sex session when her boyfriend called her a taxi to get her to leave while the other woman stayed.

According to a criminal complaint, Young told police that she ‘felt like she needed to hurt somebody’ after the threesome.

She added that she had ‘been going through a lot’ and grew angry about the relationship.

She said she bought lighter fluid and matches from a petrol station and went to her boyfriend's apartment, where she emptied the entire container of highly-flammable liquid on and under the front door.

Afterwards, she lit a match and set a tissue on fire, throwing both of them on the lighter fluid.

“Tasia Young even demonstrated how she sprayed the lighter fluid,” police revealed.

FIERY REACTION: Young took anger out on house (below)

The building that was set alight was split into two apartments.

Her boyfriend lived in one and a family of six lived in another, police said, adding that no one was hurt in the blaze.

Young was taken to the Salem County Correctional Facility after her confession.

She has been charged with arson, aggravated assault, criminal mischief and multiple counts of endangering another person.

Police said the house suffered extensive damage in the blaze.

The American Red Cross has provided temporary housing for those displaced.

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Bexie,

MY girlfriend is a filthy shag. We've done everything in bed together – from bondage to watersports.

But now she wants me to give her mum one, while she films us. Her mum is 44 and is still a very tasty blonde with a cracking body and a big pair of boobs.

I have had loads of blowjobs from her in the past, but I'm not sure if it's right to shag her while her daughter watches.

We had a "practice" last week, when my bird watched as her mum stripped off in the bedroom and expertly sucked me off as I lay naked on the bed.

I must admit I got really turned on and shot my load after a couple of minutes, exploding all over her juicy tits.

My girlfriend was obviously turned on. I'm tempted to do as she asks, but fear if I agree it will harm our relationship.

Help!

Bexie says...

ARE you kidding? Most men would love to do it!

Dear Bexie,

I WORK as a porter in a London hotel and my pals are always taking the piss out of me.

But I love my job, and here's the reason why. In my first week I shagged a gorgeous American businesswoman whose bags I took up to her room.

She asked if I found her attractive. I said yes and she led me to the bed, undressed and told me to take her from behind.

So there I was, at work, with my cock sliding in and out of this horny woman, while my mates were working and not having anywhere near as much fun!

After we'd finished, she gave me a £50 tip. I've had a few guests since and I'm coining it in.

I was going to look for another job, but I'd miss the sex and tips!

I was going to look for another job, but I'd miss the sex and tips. What shall I do?

'No anal, no marriage' note from sulky fiance

Dear Bexie,

MY fiance has just told me that he doesn't love me – just two weeks before our wedding!

I never saw this coming and I thought that everything was going great until the other night.

Then, when we were in bed, he asked me to get on my hands and knees for doggy-style sex.

We've done this loads of times and I like it – but this time he tried to put his seals in my bottle!

I was really shocked and a little disgusted too, and I let him know I wasn't up for it.

He was in a bit of a mood after that and we went to sleep without kissing each other goodnight.

The next morning when I woke up he was not in bed and there was no sign of him in the house.

And there was another shock waiting for me when I got downstairs. He had left a note saying if I wasn't prepared to let him have anal sex in the future, then he doesn't want to marry me.

What can I do?

DH, Leeds

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week BEXIE WILLIAMS has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

No 'tart' sex with wife drives me to hookers!

Dear Bexie,

I'M 45 and I have been happily married to a loving and devoted wife for 20 years.

I say "happily" but I have to admit that gradually a problem has developed.

While I still have a healthy appetite for sex, the wife has turned into a frigid, fat, unattractive lump and I'm lucky if I get my leg over once a year.

In the early years, she would happily suck me off whenever the mood took her.

And I would go down on her, lapping at her moist fanny, nibbling on her plump pussy-lips before massaging her swollen clit until she orgasmed.

Fantasy

One of the best sessions involved her tying my wrists and ankles to the bed and blindfolding me – I never knew what to expect next.

It could mean having wine or ice cream poured over my bits – which she would greedily slurp off.

But undoubtedly the fantasy game we liked playing most of all was "prostitute and punter".

She would dress as a complete slut – lots of tarty make-up, a tight vest top with no bra underneath, a short tight leather mini-skirt with stockings and suspenders and high heels.

We would then hop in the car and I would rapidly drive over to a deserted industrial estate near our house at night.

She would then get out and stand under a lamp on the corner while I drove once around the block – pretending to be "looking for business".

After negotiating a price, I'd whisk her back to the house and give her £20 to suck me off – or £50 for full sex.

One time she even let me shaft her right up the arse for £100.

That gave me so much pleasure – and she always gave me the cash back!

It was such a thrill peeling off her slutty clothes and then treating her rough as I shagged her all over the bedroom.

Occasionally, instead of taking her home, I'd take her up a back alley on the industrial estate, push up her skirt and fk her against the wall, which always made her squeal with delight.

These days, alas, the sex has become very routine and infrequent, as the missus seems far more interested in sticking her head in the fridge.

So recently I started to get my kicks from shagging street hookers for real.

I try to recreate the adult fun I used to have with the missus – and using prozzies certainly relieves my sexual frustrations.

My only worry is that technically I'm cheating on my wife, who in every other respect I'm still happy to be with.

Should I stop having sex with other women?

FH, Somerset

Bexie says...

TRY discussing the incredible nookie you used to have with your wife – it might just reignite her passion. Then you wouldn't have to shell out on expensive sex workers.

Dear Bexie,

I RECENTLY bought a brand new car for me and the wife to get around in.

Following a six-month sex drought, I was pleasantly surprised to find my missus getting horny as we drove away from the showroom.

She said the new car smell was turning her on, as was the feel of the leather upholstery rubbing on her bare, mini-skirted legs.

It was all I could do to keep my eyes on the road as she hitched up her skirt to reveal her moist, shaven pussy barely covered by a little pair of knickers.

I'd not seen the wife all rampant like this since the early days of dating her.

Back then, when we both lived with our parents, a car was about the only place we ever got to have a bit of a fumble.

This was like a trip down memory lane!

I could barely contain the nine-inch gearstick in my pants as she fingered herself.

We quickly found a car park and had the best sex we've ever had in our 12 years of marriage.

I took her in every hole on the back seat. It was fantastic!

Now she wants us to go out dogging in the new car. What do you think?

CP, Lancs

Bexie says...

IT obviously turns her on, so go for it!

Rampant lovers help me forget lazy hubby

Dear Bexie,

DESPITE the fact that I'm only 25 and with a model girl figure, my husband can only get it up once a week. If he wakes up with a hard-on on a Sunday morning, then I might get lucky. But even then it's just a quickie and off he goes.

So I've given up on him and lined up three hunky studs to satisfy me.

My stand-in studs are all pals and perform on a rota basis. The best thing is that I never know who's coming round, because they swap and change about.

They all have specialties, skills and sexual quirks, so I'm constantly kept on my toes... and on my back... and my knees... and even over the kitchen table!

One loves to hump me doggy-style in front of a full-length mirror, which is a huge turn-on.

Licking

Watching his strong body thrusting in and out of me drives me absolutely wild.

Another loves to spend an hour licking my pussy and only slips his long, thin cock into me after I've had at least three orgasms.

The third of my lovers likes to find a different place in the house to screw every time he's around – and last week he shagged me in the bath!

It's great exercise, as well as sorting my sex drive out! I reckon I must be the most toned and best-bonked babe in Britain.

Should I just get rid of my hubby and keep my trio of hunks?

HM, Nottingham

MIDWEEK Sport CLASSIC

VANESSA WALKER

BLACKPOOL is famous for many things – the Tower, rock, trams and the Golden Mile.

But by the far the best thing to come out of the jewel of the Fylde Riviera is model Vanessa Walker.

Forget donkeys and hen do ladies being sick into their knickers.

It's sultry Vanessa who gives the Lancashire resort a good name.

By BARNEY SAMUELS new@sundaysport.co.uk

As a proud Blackpool lass, the 32E lovely said she's had sex countless times on the famous sands.

Bubbly Vanessa laughed: "Forget the Pleasure Beach, most girls from Blackpool have had a whale of a time having sex down on the seafront!"

"I've even done it a few times walking home from clubs early in the morning."

#MY SEX FANTASY

'I imagine I'm on all fours with my legs wide open...'

MY biggest turn on would have to be getting blindfolded and having sex with a group of strangers.

It's wildest fantasy stuff, so I'm not sure I would ever do it – but it's what I think about when I climax!

I imagine I'm with a casual boyfriend who asks me if I'm up for a bit of fun with his pals.

I say yes, I'm up for absolutely anything – then he whips out a blindfold, places it on me, and undresses me.

I'm straddled on all fours, with my legs open, hungry for some cock action!

I hear people come into the room and then I feel loads of hands caressing me – on my bum and thighs, and then when my nipples and clit get rubbed I feel really aroused.

I've no idea how many men there are.

Erect cocks get thrust in my mouth and I eagerly suck them, while the guys take turns penetrating me.

Shagging men whose faces I haven't seen feels so taboo!

It's such a turn on as it just feels so filthy!"

I've no idea how many men there are.

Erect cocks get thrust in my mouth and I eagerly suck them, while the guys take turns penetrating me.

Shagging men whose faces I haven't seen feels so taboo!

SHOW ME THE HONEY!

WELCOME to the interactive Midweek Sport – where YOU get to choose the stunnas appearing on these pages!

That's right fellas, we publish sexy snaps of the babes you most want to see – TOPLESS or even NAKED.

Every Wednesday, Show Me The Honey features the cute curves of the glamour girls you're clamouring for. This service – UNIQUE to British newspapers – is totally FREE!

All you have to do is drop us an email to request@sundaysport.co.uk telling us why you want to see your favourite girl, then sit back and let us do the rest.

MIA MIDDLETON

BLONDE beauty Mia Middleton was the pick of Geordie lad Simon Thornton, who thinks it's been far too long since he last saw her in the Midweek Sport.

Amateur football referee Simon, 32, said Mia's 30D bosoms were the reason he started buying the paper and he always hopes for a glimpse of them.

Well Simon, we hope this saucy snap of Northampton scorcher Mia, 23, helps keep you fit!

DANNI HARWOOD

DELI owner Alan McGregor wrote in begging to see a picture of his fave topless stunna Danni Harwood.

Alan, 56, from Cardiff, Wales owns his own deli in the Welsh capital and would love 35-year-old Danni to pop in for one of his specials.

He said: "Danni is utterly gorgeous. She's from just down the road in Neath, Port Talbot and she'd be welcome in here anytime."

"I've got a deli special offer reserved just for her 32F lovelies and trust me, she'll definitely come back for more!"

SUZI STAR

PRESTON plumber Shaun McDermott asked for the "sexiest photo we could find" of 26-year-old Suzi Star, from Braintree, Essex.

Shaun, 36, said: "Me and the lads always chip in to buy Midweek Sport to read on our brew breaks, but we haven't seen that Suzi Star in the paper for years! "Could you whack a picture of her in soon for us please?"

No probs, Shaun.

WITH HIS SPORT ODDS AND ENDS

HE'S BACK:
Tiger Woods

TIGER UP FOUR IT AT 150-1

TIGER Woods' Masters triumph was one of the great sporting achievements of this or any other generation but can the now 15-time Major winner add to his tally in 2019 as he tries to top Jack Nicklaus's record of 19.

The US PGA Championship will be held at Bethpage Black next month — where Woods won the US Open in 2002 and finished sixth in 2009. The US Open will be held at Pebble Beach in June the scene of Woods' remarkable 15 shot success — a record for a Major tournament — in the corresponding tournament back in 2000. That was Tiger's second win at the course in 2000 given he had come from seven down with seven to play yet still won the Pro-Am earlier in the year following a final round 64.

The Open will be held at Royal Portrush in Northern Ireland and few in the field will have experience of playing the course although it was used for the Irish Open back in 2012. It has not been used as an Open Championship venue since 1951 but Woods is unlikely to be inconvenienced by what is a traditional links' course.

So just how many Majors will Woods' win in 2019 or was Augusta just one final Major hurrah for the 43-year-old? For what it is worth I felt tee to green Brooks Koepka deserved a first Green Jacket, but some things are meant to be, and he dumped his tee shot on 12 into the water and missed vital putts on 15, 17 and 18. How many Majors will Woods win in 2019? BetVictor bet: One: 2/7, two: 5/2, three: 33/1, four: 150/1. Finish in the top 5 in all 4 Majors — Inc ties: 12/1. Finish in the top 10 in all 4 Majors — Inc ties: 4/1. Finish in the top 20 in all 4 Majors — Inc ties: Evens.

Qualify

Dustin Johnson is 8/1 favourite for the US PGA Championship next month with Tiger 9/1 at BetVictor. The field is much stronger than when Woods was dominating at the turn of the century, but he showed at the weekend that he can still compete at the top table and he is still number 1 with golf fans across the globe.

Man City entertain Spurs in the Champions League this evening looking to overturn a 1-0 deficit from the first leg. Spurs have qualified for the next round of European competition on the last nine occasions they have taken a lead from the first leg and I feel City will be left to rue their missed penalty in London last week.

Spurs are 13/10 with BetVictor to qualify — City 8/13 — and I just feel that might be too big a price with their clean sheet from the home leg. City will have to score at least three to qualify if Mauricio Pochettino's side score and I just feel it will be Spurs' night.

Liverpool are 11/10 at BetVictor to win in Porto and, after a poor record on the road in the Groups, they returned to their best when winning in Munich in the last 16. Porto have won all four Champions League homes this season, but have played nothing of the calibre of the Reds. Liverpool won 5-0 in Porto in the last 16 last season and can win this evening although the tip is for the Reds to win and both score at 16/5 with BetVictor.

Trent set to down Porto

REDS DEFENDER READY FOR PORTUGUEEZERS

TRENT Alexander-Arnold is convinced Liverpool are hitting top gear at the ideal time in the season.

By PAUL THOMAS

The Reds stunned Chelsea with a second-half blitz at Anfield on Sunday to take them back to the Premier League summit.

That followed a simple 2-0 win against Porto in the first leg of their Champions League quarter-final.

The Reds head into the second leg tonight full of confidence and the young right-back can't wait to get going — especially as Liverpool spanked Porto 5-0 last season. He said: "When you're in amongst the wins and grinding out the results, you can't wait to get to the next game.

"Obviously we have fond memories of Porto last season, so we're looking to go there and hopefully replicate what we've done.

"We know it's going to be tough, it's going to be a difficult test for us. Hopefully we'll go there and keep up the momentum."

One Liverpool player who has taken a step forward in recent weeks is Jordan Henderson.

The skipper has got his way with boss Jurgen Klopp pushing him into a more attacking role.

That has brought a rare goal along with an assist for Liverpool's opener against Chelsea at the weekend.

He is also talking about momentum heading into the final month or so of the season.

Henderson said: "It was a big game, we knew that."

"Chelsea are a good side, a tough game — as we've known from the last few years. It's a really good performance."

"We've got to keep believing in the games that we're in."

"We keep doing the good things that we've been doing, keep working hard and then win as many games as we can."

That's our focus. It was an excellent performance at the weekend with two great goals, a clean sheet, a top performance really. We're delighted.

"But we can't think about it too much because we've got a game in a few days, so we've got to recover well and focus on that."

"Porto is another big game for us — a tough one. We've been there before and played well and got the result."

"But it might be different because they're a good team, and it will be a great atmosphere."

"But for us again it's about going there, performing and getting the result we need to get to the next round."

GET BEHIND THE LADS

Pep makes noise plea to City fans

PEP Guardiola is calling on Manchester City fans to give the team more vocal support.

The Blues have struggled to sell out the Etihad for the second leg of their Champions League quarter-final against Spurs tonight. The manager would like to hear the place rocking in the way it was when they beat Liverpool in the Premier League earlier this year.

Guardiola said: "The Liverpool game would be enough for me, a little bit better. We need it. Do it for the guys — the last 20 months, they are so proud with what they have done but they are human beings. They will have bad moments in the games and at that moment we need our supporters."

"At this stage, without supporters, we cannot go through. I'm expecting."

"I'm really curious to see how our fans are going to react tomorrow, really curious."

Guardiola sounds keener than the fans on winning the Champions League.

He lifted the trophy twice with Barcelona but couldn't take it to Bayern Munich and has, so far, come up short as City boss.

Pep underlined the need for the fans to get behind the side in saying: "Sorry guys, I'm a failure in this competition but many times I played in the semi-final and quarter-finals, and every time I played away the atmosphere was really incredible. They support their local teams."

By JOHN ANTHONY

"We need it. Really, we need it. I want to see that they want to get to the semi-finals. Not the players, the players no doubt after 20 months."

"I want to see my fans, our fans, that they really want the semi-finals. I want to see that."

It's an unusual time for City as they play Tottenham again at the weekend.

The way Liverpool are playing, the champions will probably have to win all their games to retain the crown — including at Old Trafford.

Incredible

Guardiola is treating the week-end Premier League clash with the Londoners like another knockout tie.

He added: "If we don't win these games we'll be out of two competitions. They are absolute finals for us, I've had that feeling from weeks ago."

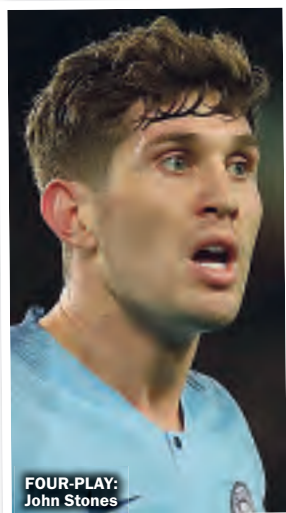

"This season we have an incredible opponent like Liverpool in the Premier League."

"What they have done so far they deserve. Normally with 84 or 86 points you are champion — they have 85."

"Both teams deserve to be champions but just one team is going to get it."

The quadruple is on for City this season and John Stones is greedy for silverware.

He said: "If you don't dream big then you are not going to get anywhere near it. It comes from within everyone, we have this belief and ambition to do it."

FOUR-PLAY: John Stones

Chapelli can hit his rivals for six

WINNING POST WITH BEN MORGAN

A CRACKING day's racing awaits us today with top quality action at both Newmarket and Cheltenham.

My best bet comes at Newmarket and it comes in CHAPELLI (NAP) who was a close second on her return at Pontefract last week and looks dangerous on the same mark today.

I would say she had the misfortune of bumping into a well handicapped horse last week but she still managed to hold off all other challengers in what was a very encouraging performance.

Her size always meant she would make up into a better animal this year and with race fitness on her side, I think she can blow her rivals away today.

The feature race at Newmarket is the Craven Stakes where a few classic hopefuls put their credentials on the line.

The one they all have to beat is ROYAL MARINE as his performance in France last season is easily the best form in this race. He held off a couple of well regarded horses, one of which is now strongly fancied for the Derby, and if he is none the worse for a below par run in Dubai, he must go very close here.

Challenge

Zakouski is the unknown and Confiding should outrun his odds.

The action at Cheltenham looks equally as good and I've picked out a few handicappers who should go very well.

Firstly, HONEST VIC was coming to deliver his challenge in a hot handicap last time when he ran out and unseated his jockey.

He put in a good run in the same race last year and comes here a fresher horse than most. The good ground should be ideal and providing there is a strong pace, he shouldn't be too far away off this mark.

MAGIC DANCER is a cracking little horse as he always seems to run his race. He won this last term in style and should feature again on a 6lb higher mark. Kerry Lee has changed tactics on him and he now bowls along in front so he is no longer pace dependent which means Richard Patrick's job is that little bit easier. ■ Ben's Lucky 15 - Chapelli, Royal Marine, Honest Vic, Magic Dancer

STAYING: Coutinho

BARCA PHIL THEIR BOOTS

By ANDY MILLOM

MANCHESTER United and Chelsea can forget about signing Phillippe Coutinho this summer.

That's the warning from Barcelona president Josep Maria Bartomeu who says the former Liverpool midfielder will be going nowhere — despite a rocky start to like at the Nou Camp.

Coutinho cost the Catalans a whopping £142million last January and it's fair to say that the Brazilian has yet to hit the ground running.

The 26-year-old has cut a forlorn figure with manager Ernesto Valverde marooning him out on the wing rather than the central role that brought so much success at Liverpool.

Bartomeu points to the ridiculous £350m release clause in Coutinho's contract as proof of how highly the club rate him despite the slow start.

The president said: "Coutinho is an excellent player and he has the coach's confidence."

"He has a contract with us and he will remain at the team, unless another team meet his release clause."

Bartomeu has also been pouring cold water on suggestions that Neymar may be coming back to Barcelona in the near future.

Reports in Spain have suggested that Luis Suarez is coming to the end of his time at the club and Ousmane Dembele has yet to prove his worth in a red and blue shirt.

That has led to rumours of a swap deal with Neymar coming back to Barcelona and Dembele heading to Paris in an elaborate swap deal that would also involve a fee.

Bartomeu added: "It's not possible for Neymar to come to Barcelona as we have another sporting project with Dembele and Coutinho."

"We are happy with what we have in those players."

"Dembele is a good professional player."

"He is a young guy who arrived at a huge club and that's not easy, but he has adapted and he is much better than Neymar for our team."
